Plans for 4 Parks Submitted to Board By Committee Heads

One at Water Front,
Others in Northeast
South and Northwest

The Village Board has before it plans for four proposed parks and playgrounds for the community on which work probably will be started during 1951. They are the North-east Park, the Milburn Pond Park, the Northwest Park and the Water-front Park to be located at the foot of South Long Beach Ave.

A committee of citizens residing in each area has studied the various projects and prepared proposed plans which were submitted to the Village Board at its meeting on Monday night, Dec. 18.

William E. Crevoiserat submitted the plans as developed by the North-east area committee. The park is to be located between Commercial st. and Parsons ave., and will run 200 feet on the easterly side of Harrison ave., and 500 feet along Parsons ave. making a plot of about 6 acres in the overall cost of the project when finally completed at $81,000, with the first stage of development costing $29,000. Provision has been made for athletic facilities, fire places, a playground area and a comfort station. Mr. Crevoiserat said requests have already been made by Girl and Boy Scouts troops for permission to conduct their various activities in the park.

Milburn Pond Park Plans
John F. Woods spoke for the Milburn Pond Park project. He explained that this plan is different in scope from the others in that it is not intended primarily for recreational purposes but for the beautification of the approaches to the village. The area lies between Merrick rd. and Sunrise Highway at the westerly boundary of the community. As it is expected the Nassau County Thruway will be located to (Continued on Page 3)

Remarkable Growth Shown in Freeport During Year 1950

New Engine Needed
At the Power House
Reflects Increases

Freeport has had a remarkable growth during 1950 from the standpoint of population, building developments and new industries. And there is every indication that this growth will be continued, if not accelerated, during the coming year unless war-time restrictions slow it down or bring it to a halt.

This situation was brought graphically to the attention of the Village Fathers in September when Thomas Moore, superintendent of the Power Plant, was forced to advise the Board the capacity of the plant was reaching the saturation point, and that it might be exceeded during the holiday season. Fortunately Christmas is over and there was no break down so officials can begin to breathe easier again.

Last year when the new Diesel engine was installed, it was expected it would provide, with the older engines, sufficient generating facilities to carry the plant through 1952 without any additional units being required. The fact that these expectations were not realized brought about a need for speedy action. The Board immediately voted a $500,000 bond issue to finance the purchase of another engine.

However, before contracting for the new unit, the Board decided to have a survey made by an Indianapolis engineering firm, to make certain it was taking the proper steps when it does act.

This situation was caused especially by the rapid development of the southern section of the village, where blocks of houses, running into the hundreds have been erected. Then throughout the village many single vacant lots have been built on so that all in all the number of additional dwelling units built during 1950 has exceeded that of any previous year in the history of the village. This has brought about a rapid growth in the population. Consequently there was much disappointment when after the census taken in April, the official Federal figures gave the village a population of about 400 under 25,000.

Mayor Robert L. Dosssee has explained that given the count to which the village is entitled, the 25,000-mark would have been exceeded. He pointed out that students away at school are not credited to Freeport but to the community in which they are studying. These and others who were out when the enumerators called would easily have added 400 to the population and given Freeport advantages it will not possess until it reached 25,000, and this will be impossible until after 1950 when the next census is taken.

Many new industries have located in the village during the year and others are moving into town week by week to add to the growth of the community.

'Five Keys to Household Safety'

The following "Five Keys to Household Safety," to be served in these days of a possible attack by an enemy, were issued today by Cyril C. Ryan, Freeport Director of Civilian Defense:

1. Strive for "Fireproof Housekeeping." Don't let trash pile up, and keep waste paper in covered containers. When an alert sounds, do all you can to eliminate sparks by shutting off the oil burner and covering all open flames.
2. Know Your Own Home. Know which is the safest part of your cellar, learn how to turn off your oil burner and what to do about utilities.
3. Have Emergency Equipment and Supplies Handy. Always have a good flashlight, a radio, first aid equipment and a supply of canned goods in the house.
4. Close All Windows and Doors and Draw the Blinds. If you have time when an alert sounds, close the house up tight in order to keep out fire sparks and radioactive dusts and to lessen the chances of being out by flying glass. Keep the house closed until all danger is past.
5. Use the Telephone Only for True Emergencies. Do not use the phone unless absolutely necessary. Leave the lines open for real emergency traffic.

Kiwanis Gives Shoes To 30 Needy Youngsters

Thirty under-privileged children were entertained by the Kiwanis Club of Freeport at its annual Christmas party in the Elks club house. Members brought 20 of their youngsters who received gifts provided by their parents, while orders for shoes were presented the guests of the club, as well as candy and toys. Raymond L. Young officiated as Santa Claus. A turkey dinner was served to all. Joseph H. Gray was in charge of transporting the children to the clubhouse from their homes and back again. Julius L. Birgenthal took charge of the event when illness prevented William K. Tenney from doing so as he had done for many years.

Plans for 4 Parks

The first stage, therefore of development will start at Centre of the west of the proposed park, involving the changing of the grade of Sunrise Highway and a great deal of other work. It was recommended that nothing be done toward the improvement in that section.

The first stage, therefore of development will start at Centre of the west of the proposed park, involving the changing of the grade of Sunrise Highway and a great deal of other work. It was recommended that nothing be done toward the improvement in that section.

Plans for the proposed Northwest Park were submitted by Van Baar Brown, president of the Northwest Civic Association. They include basketball courts, a diamond with bleachers for the ball games at a future date and a playground for smaller children. As the property for this park is to be procured from New York City at a nominal figure, Mr. Brown placed the total cost at approximately $30,000, the first stage involving $19,900 and the second $8,000.

Waterfront Park Reopened

Victor C. Wade spoke for the Waterfront Park. He said that while the project was going to be a rather expensive one, it would be money well spent because many people already drive to the foot of Long Beach ave., to watch the boats in Little Swift Creek and the wild ducks which are a source of enjoyment to adults as well as children.

He proposed a parking field with accommodations for 18 cars to keep motorists from parking in the street as they do now. He added that while Freeport has about 12 miles of waterfront only a few hundred feet are usable for park purposes and it is the feeling of residents of the southern section that the time has come when people should be able to enjoy the area. He saw little need for a playground, but proposed walkways instead, 300 feet of bulkheading with a guard rail for fishing, a small bathing beach with bathhouses and a handball court.

The proposed layout calls for a flagpole at the end of Long Beach ave. Mr. Wade estimated the total cost at $79,000, the first to include the building of walks, curbing and bulkheading, with guard rail, $11,000, and the final stage, $28,549, including the bathing beach.

Board to Study Proposals

Mayor Robert L. Domesse thanked the men for their reports and said the plans would be studied and promised that the board would do all in its power, considering the financial condition of the village and what conditions to carry out the projects. He assured them a start would be made on the various projects during 1951.

Fred C. Blumer, Trustee Leonard D. B. Smith and Everett C. Furman, chairman of the Park Commission, were on the Northwest committee. In addition to Mr. Grevelsger, Trustee Cord Visebrook and Mr. Furman, on the Milburn Park committee in addition to Mr. Woods, Trustee Visebrook and Mr. Furman on the Northwest group in addition to Mr. Brown, and George Roth and W. E. Watson on the waterfront project in addition to Mr. Wade. W. J. Wolters, engineer of Strecker & King, who has done most of the work in mapping out the parks, and Village Engineer Herbert M. Wood participated in the discussion.

Happy New Year?

In these ominous times one is at a loss for words with which to greet the New Year. Almost as a matter of habit "Happy New Year" will be mouthed millions of times across this broad land. But even as people speak they will have a hesitancy in their expression.

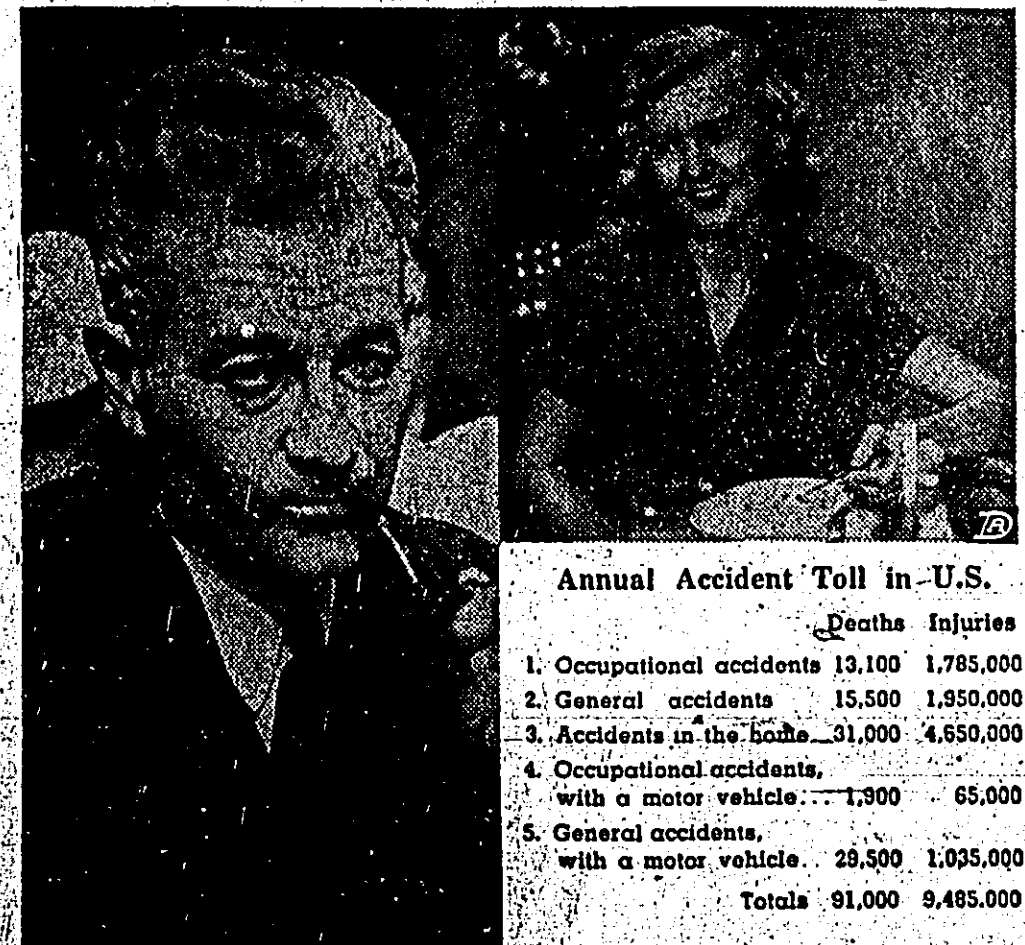

With the prospects of another World War engineered by the Communists with Korea as a starting point. With Civil Defense officials issuing instruction as to what should be done for self protection in the event of an air raid, and even the dropping of an atomic bomb, every one must be wondering what to expect during 1951 and fear for the worst.

Even if no bombs are dropped on American soil, the year is bound to be a trying one. With so many of our youth being taken into the various branches of the armed service, the serious world situation is going to be brought close to the majority of homes in this country. Restrictions are sure to be clamped down on so many things that our methods of living will be changed. Materials will be scarce and some forms of food also will be limited in supply because of the United Nations must take a firm stand on Russia. They ought to know by now that any attempts at appeasement are just so much wasted energy. Russia was a spoiled child during World War II. Instead of coming out as a loyal ally, the Communists had to be pampered like a sulking child, to keep her in line and she has been carrying on the same policy ever since. At Casablanca, Yalta, Potsdam and other conferences attended by the Big Four, we made secret agreements in which Russia was the beneficiary and which led to the present plight of the world today. Russia never was asked to give anything in exchange, or to guarantee anything in return. We're still pleading for the return of ships and other things we supposedly lent under the lend-lease agreement. And we'll probably never get them back.

It seems to us Surrogate Leone D. Howell is right when he asserts it was a mistake for this country to announce it would not drop an atom bomb until after some other nation had done so first. He selected Moscow as the place that ought to be first to learn what an atom bomb does to a city. As there never was any doubt that the outbreak of hostilities in Korea was ordered from Moscow; that the launching of the Red Chinese offensive was ordered from the same source after we thought the war had been won and are being humiliated as a result, why are we waiting formal action by the United Nations before dropping a few bombs on Red China? It seems so foolish and childish to stand on ceremony in these times.

Unless we stop the advancing Red hordes in the East, or even if we do, what will be Russia's next move? Inability to answer the question is what is creating uneasiness throughout the world and making us put a question mark after our Happy New Year's greetings.

ATTACKING A STATE OF MIND—Movie critics and safety experts throughout America are praising "A Closed Book," talking picture which dramatizes accident prevention by a well-plotted, appealing story filled with suspense and heart interest. Instead of statistics, the film was produced by the Farm Bureau Insurance Companies of Columbus, Ohio, in cooperation with the National Safety Council, for free loan to all who will show it. Milburn Stone and Hope Ryden have leading roles in the picture, which reveals human carelessness—a state of mind—as the major cause of fatal accidents.

3,700,000 BABIES BORN IN U.S. THIS YEAR

Another bumper crop of babies started life's journey in the United States during 1950. By year's end the number of births will total nearly 3,700,000, the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company's statisticians estimate, which is only five per cent below the all-time high of 1947.

This year was fourth in succession in which the number of births exceeded 3,500,000.

The sustained high level of births is all the more remarkable since the number of marriages dropped rather sharply between 1946 and 1949, the statisticians comment.

The births during 1950 were at the rate of 24 per 1,000 of the population, including the armed forces overseas.

"The babies born in 1950 have a greater chance of surviving the hazards of infancy than babies of any previous year," the statisticians point out. "Present indications are that infant mortality declined during the year to a new minimum of 23 per 1,000 live births. It will be the first time that the rate has fallen below 30."

EDDIE VASIL

By TED BOURLAND, pinch hitting this week for EDDIE VASIL
It is better to light one candle than to curse the darkness.

The motto above, said to be from the antique Chinese, is good enough for me during the coming New Year. In the light of this one candle I resolve to see the Nice Things about everybody, the Beauty that's in (almost) everything, before I begin getting ulcers over the Bad and the Ugly that you can always dream up if you work hard at it. That's my Resolution. I expect it to make me a Happy New Year. Will you join me?

NICE THINGS about Freeport: Practically a stranger here myself, four big village meets a fresh eye. Nicest thing is the people. Which people? Well, the one's I've met so far, selling—or not selling—LEADER advertising to our merchants. Every Tuesday I amble into the Freeport Fruit & Vegetable store where wise and happy Dominick gives me the latest prices on bananas, pineapples, oranges, spinach, broccoli and the state of the Vegetable Kingdom. (Look: there's a good name for a veg. shop, no?) Last Tuesday, Dom was sad over the sudden skyhigh price of Florida, Texas and some California fruits and vegs, on account of they froze down there, remember? From there a pleasant stop is at "George's"—the big luncheonette at the corner of Grove and Merrick—where the coffee's good, the girls charmingly attentive and George—well, he's one of those restful personalities. And there's tall Mr. Kahn at Waverly decorators. (No dear, he isn't advertising in the Leader, but I like the guy.) K. knows merchandising and talks about it, the way Fritz Kreisler might discuss fiddles. And strolling up Main I've been dropping in on Frank Weisenfeld in his bright jewelry store. A rugged one, this Frank. Told me he might take off during February. Florida, of course? Shoot, no, podnuh, Frank's going to Montreal—in February. Pleasant man to talk things over with. Has opinions... Open mind... That sort of thing.

Speaking of open minds, the folks who ride the busses in Southwest Freeport will have to keep the old temper open at both ends until this strike is settled. Object of strike, more pay. Reason for strike, boss thinks present pay is enough. An old situation, one that has been settled many times of yore and could be settled now if the dissident parties would get together and "light one candle" (see above if you've forgotten.)

New LEADER offices delightful. Come up and see us. Eddie's Freeport office next to mine, looking very executive. Eddie's up-country today and I can't help saying how helpful and cooperative he has been to this stranger, with his large acquaintance and his insight into the general Freeport picture. And friend Paul E. Cooluris, who has just joined us, beaming easily across my desk. And beyond the Freeporter office is The Boss—Mr. Campbell, surrounded by originals by his old friends James Montgomery Flagg, John Falter, Jimmy Durante, Will Hayes and heavenly knows who else. And here I am—drawing table, rubber cement, littered desk, wonderful view of the Meadow Brook Bank, Eric's, the Plaza Theatre and Sunrise traffic in frigid sunshine—a newspaper advertising office. Very familiar to me—messy, but familiar. It's a good world, believe it or not.

ABOUT NINETEEN FIFTY ONE. "Now the New Year, reviving old desires..." remember Omar? (Suggestion to Sid Driben, Gus Eisenberg, Mr. London and other liquor-dealers: look in The Rubaiyat of Omar Khayyam for wonderful slogans for the coming year)... The Chrystal Ball is off! Hook at present, but we humans in Freeport, have a right to hope that (1) the Overpass business will be cleaned up and the central approaches to Our Big Village, including the bus station and its approaches, will become slightly and spacious (2) that Juke Boxes will be fitted with an extra slot, in which when a nickel is inserted, five minutes of silence will ensue. (3) that Peace, Peace on Earth (we just now were singing about it at the top of our voices) will be so utterly nailed down for keeps in our land that we can drink at a christening without tasting the cold meats of a funeral.

TO THE LADIES Pretty girls are here, like melodies... better still, here are gracious ladies, too, like symphonies, and perhaps this aging adman is more at ease with the latter. I've so enjoyed the social attitude of business women about town. Miss Therese Sampson, newcomer corsetiere of North Main Street, who gave me news of Texas and the very best coffee on dismal days. Mrs. Braithwaite of Braithwaite's, with all voice and coloratura smile. Mrs. Bitterman, long established corsetiere of West Merrick Road, whose warm personality has tempted me in for several nice chats.

ABOUT PEACE: Friend Paul just phoned Chief Elar, asking what news behind the green lights. "Nothing," said the Chief. In one word, I ever heard.

ABOUT YOU: The Man About Town only has two feet, but his curiosity is limitless. He wants to know about You, and You and You. Have you a boy in camp or overseas, and has he written you? Are you giving a party or getting married or fighting off a bad cold? Are you going somewhere, and when are you coming back and what did you see while there? Write or phone and tell the M. A. T.

ABOUT ENOUGH: My father wore a standup collar and told Indian stories. One story was about an old Medicine Man who was a whizz as a weather forecaster. One Fall he predicted a terribly severe winter and he was right: it snowed yards and was colder than soandso. In the Spring a delegation of weather men visited him. "How on earth do you do it, Chief?" they asked. "You always predict right, but last winter was a miracle of forecasting. How did you know, honest, that it would be cold and snowy?" The old Indian puffed once on his cornucob spit, and said: "Ugh, him easy. Me see white man chop up much wood for fire."

Those who think this funny, as I do, are invited to write in so we can form a club. The "Whizzo Funny" club. Signing off for friend Eddie Vasil and with best wishes for a Happy New Year, T. P. B.

Record Peace Year Service Rendered By The Nassau Red Cross Chapter

Their Red Cross served the people of Nassau to a greater extent in 1950 than in any year since the war, Franklin S. Koons, chairman of the County ARO Chapter, indicated today in reviewing its record for the past 12 months.

The Chapter's disaster service went into action at once in the tragic railroad wrecks on Feb. 17 and Nov. 22, which took 110 lives and injured hundreds, and again in the gale of Nov. 25 that left a wide wake of damage. Mr. Koons pointed out. The resources of the Chapter and the National Red Cross were available for immediate aid and rehabilitation of the victims and their families.

Although the work of volunteers for servicemen was greater during the war years, the Chapter's program for Nassau, in keeping pace with the continuing growth of the county, rose to a new peak in 1950, he explained.

"The Red Cross health and safety service provided free instruction in first aid, home nursing, swimming and life saving available for every one in Nassau last year," Mr. Koons added. "The full cooperation of the chapter has been pledged to the civil defense organization."

The home service department in continuing its aid to veterans and servicemen assisted more than 2,700 families in Nassau.

"The splendid work of the volunteers, who gave more than 48,000 hours, made this Red Cross record possible," the Chapter chairman continued. "They served at North-Continents Hospital, Mitchell Field Hospital and in the Chapter and its 38 Branches. They drove Red Cross autos, manned emergency first aid stations and set up canteens at send-off ceremonies for draftees."

The Junior Red Cross set a record of its own as it enrolled nearly 104,000 school children in its projects for veterans, hospitalized youngsters and to cement ties of international neighborliness with children of other lands.

In all its work, the Red Cross has merely carried out the directive of the people of Nassau. The 65,000 members who oversubscribed the $274,000 goal of the 1950 fund campaign gave the Chapter a clear mandate to continue its service to

Rotary Club Gives Family Party In Observance Of The Yule Season

The Rotary Club of Freeport gave a family party to observe the Christmas season Thursday night in the Elks clubhouse. First a buffet supper was served, then a group of high school students sang and Santa Claus, impersonated by Charles Shinn, did his stuff.

Some amusing gifts were handed out. Thomas V. Verbeck, diamond cutter, received a package of ice cubes; Dr. Alfred H. Hammond, dentist, a set of false teeth; Walter J. A. Mack, announced as the only Democrat in Nassau County, a donkey and Michael Scopolich, a boatbuilder, a real row boat. Just to mention a few. To the women Santa presented bag rests on which to hang their handbags while eating out.

The high school chorus, accompanied by Jeanne Lyon sang, "Silent Night," "Adeste Fideles," "Ave Maria," "O Little Town of Bethlehem" and "Jingle Bells" with Virginia Schneider, Agnes Hinson and Robert Boothby contributing solos, and Ann Yarrow playing a violin obligato.

Others in the group were Lynn Waugh, Marilyn Liner, Antoinette Alasiro, Rosalind Curry, Lea Gily, Barbara Fischer, Patrick Strong, Kent Smith, Robert Parisi, William Ludlum, John Wegman, Richard Laing, William Hillbrecker, Marshall Rivers, Ray Clements and John Perito.

C. Oliver Moore gave a talk urging all to tune themselves to the spirit of Christmas. He said that bad as conditions are today they were worse at the time of the first Christmas. The Roman Legion was making its presence felt in Palestine, Herod, hearing the new born babe proclaimed a King, sought to kill him, and falling had all the first

Republicans Give Party For Numerous Children

More than 20 needy youngsters were guests of the Freeport Republican Club at its annual Christmas party in the Legion Dugout. They were conveyed to the event in cars of club members with Fred Hager as chairman.

Members also provided gifts for their children which were distributed by Santa Claus, in the person of William J. Kell, with those for the young guests of the evening so no distinction was shown. Before St. Nick arrived, Daniel Hotelling, entertained with feats of magic. Later ice cream and cake were served to all the youngsters.

Joseph E. Condon headed the committee of arrangements. Business was dispersed with for the night. President Ralph L. Marshall presided.

The Leader Bookshelf

By MRS. ELIZABETH F. KELLY
Librarian, Freeport Memorial Library

Clark McMeekin is the pseudonym used by two women, Dorothy Park Clark and Isabel McLeannan McMeekin. So well do these two women unite together that the reader is not conscious of the part assumed by either.

The story of their new book "City of the Flags" is laid in Louisville, Ky., during the early years of the Civil War. You will recall that Louisville was neutral, her sympathies were divided between the north and the south, brothers in the same family fighting on different sides. It is claimed the authors have used the old Quaker-Cayman mansion as the home of the Purchase family of our story.

To Louisville comes Murray Bonduant Andrews. Murray had grown up here as a girl, her father dying when she was young, her mother marrying Dr. Thompson, and later leaving him for another man. Murray had stayed on with Dr. Thompson, had married, gone to Philadelphia to live, there her husband had died leaving her a wealthy widow while very young.

Meanwhile Dr. Thompson had lost much of his practice. He believed in freeing the slaves, was a freed-woman, as his housekeeper. But Dr. Thompson still kept his profession at the university. True, Dr. Thompson did not write very encouragingly of Murray when she suggested she come to act as hostess for his home but Murray denied it was because he felt he had no claim on her. The townspeople were astounded when Saha met Murray at the dock. Her beauty was reported all over town. Yet she was not accepted. No one, except a few young men, came to call. That meant that she was socially ostracized. Should she tell Dr. Tom? Did Saha really snicker at her, pity her?

Shortly some of her former girl friends would speak to her if none of the seniors were present. She did go to dances, she went in defiance.

Then Murray came to realize that there was gossip about Dr. Tom. What could it be? The last part of the book is given over to efforts to try to unearth this, to try to help Dr. Tom keep his position at the University.

Underprivileged Children Guests Of Exchange Club At Its Yule Party

Certificates good for a pair of shows in a local store were among the gifts Santa Claus, in the person of John H. Diemer, distributed among 25 underprivileged children who were the guests of the Exchange Club of Freeport at its annual Christmas party in the Elks clubhouse. The members also brought their sons and daughters to the luncheon and they too shared in the bounties bestowed on all the youngsters. Each proud dad also introduced his child or children just as he would any other guests he might take to an exchange meeting.

A turkey luncheon, with all the fixings, was first served. Then tickets good for the Saturday morning program at the Grove Theatre were given all the members of the younger element entitled each to take his father or mother to the show. Then Selwin Shook, president-elect gave out Pepsi-Cola banks, facsimiles of bottle vending machines.

Daniel Hotelling put on a magician's act after which Santa arived and did his stuff. He presented the certificates for the shoes and gave each child a toy or other article from under the tree in the corridor of the clubhouse. Altogether it was quite a pleasant occasion for the younger element.

A note of sadness was injected into the proceedings by the announcement of President George J. Smith that Henry VonElm, a past president, had died after a long illness.

Christian Science

"Christian Science" is the lesson-lesson subject for Sunday, at 11 a.m. in the First Church of Christ, Scientist, West Merrick rd. at Elm pl. The golden text is "When he, the Spirit of truth, is come, he will guide you into all truth: for whatsoever he shall hear, that shall he speak: and he will show you things to come" (John 16:13).

The sermon will be from Matthew 16:13-16, King James version: "When Jesus came into the coasts of Caesarea Philippi, he asked his disciples, saying, 'Whom do men say that I the Son of man am?' And they said, 'Some say that thou art John the Baptist; some, Elias; and others, Jeremiah, or one of the prophets.' He said unto them: 'But whom say ye that I am?' And Simon Peter answered and said, 'Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God.' And Jesus answered and said unto him, 'Blessed art thou, Simon Bar-Jona: for flesh and blood hath not revealed it unto thee, but my Father which is in heaven. And I say also unto thee, That thou art Peter, and upon this rock I will build my church: and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it.'"

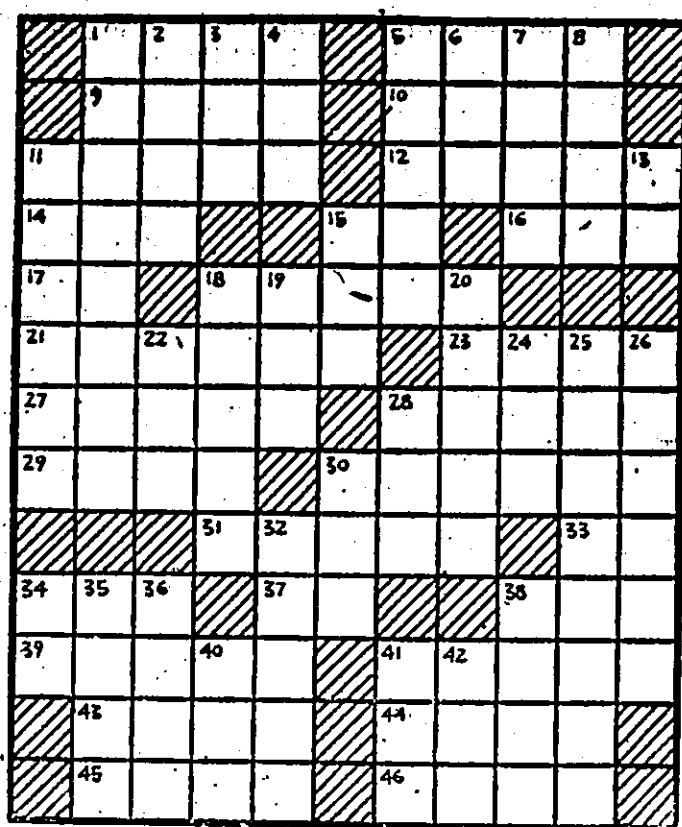

Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include: "Yearning to be understood, the Master repeated, 'But whom say ye that I am?' . . . With his usual impetuosity, Simon replied for his brethren, and his reply set forth a great fact: 'Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God.' That is: The Messiah is what thou hast declared, — Christ, the spirit of God, of Truth, Life, and Love, which heals mentally . . . It was now evident to Peter that divine Life, Truth, and Love, and not a human personality, was the healer of the sick and a rock, a firm foundation in the realm of harmony" (pp 137, 138).

Scanning The Sports Scene

BY DICK SCHAAP

Local quintets have dropped the curtain on the 1950-51 basketball campaign with the spotlight focused on the gaudy record compiled by Freeport's all-winning Red Devils.

We'll take advantage of this opportunity to run down the individual scoring records for the Freeport five. Heading the list is diminutive Freddy Fellman with a high points total. The swift forward has found the range for 42 field goals and 24 charity tosses. His average of 21.6 tallies per encounter tops Nassau County.

Next on the individual scoring parade is towering Jay Schmidt, the 6-5 pivot flash. Schmidt has cut the cords for 40 buckets and 24 penalty throws. His 104 composite produces an average of 20.8 markers per outing.

Not to be overlooked is the brilliant play-making and defensive work turned in by Dave Pearsall. Dave applied his defensive skills to Great Neck's Fred Rappoport and succeeded in limiting the Great Neck pacesetter to five points. Against Oyster Bay, Pearsall hawked Walker Esco the first half and held the speedy ace to a single point in that period. Freeport's floor general also has connected for double figures in two engagements.

Al Scoplinich, up from last year's Jayvee, has been doing a worthy job on the starting five. Scoplinich is third in scoring with a 36 tallies total. Johnny Morgan, the remaining starter, has been of considerable aid to Schmidt in sweeping the rebounds off the backboards in addition to scoring 30 tallies.

Key reserves at this stage have been Emil Lauck and Charlie Onderdonk. The loss of the two chief substitutes has not been harmful to the team as Lauck and Onderdonk have filled the breach. Both have chipped in with some timely baskets.

Elsewhere around the county, the top teams seem to be stationed in Long Beach, Chaminade, Hicksville, Lynbrook, Baldwin, and Sewanhaka. The Beachers are spearheaded by aggressive ballhawk Tom DeLuca who is one of the county's top flight players.

Chaminade boasts of its high-scoring "Mutt and Jeff" combination of bruising Larry McCoy and fiery Spike Daly. Hicksville's pacesetters are Dick Aloock and Harry O'Mack. Richie Reinhard and Chuck Dellaro are Lynbrook's scoring threats.

Baldwin's roster includes the county's leading scorer in Denny Miller, 6' 2" blond set-shot specialist. Miller has flipped 117 markers through the nets this year. Bolstering the Golden Wave attack is bill Bill O'Brien, another sure-shot.

Sewanhaka's top performer is smoothy Al Pugliese. The Indiani-standout is a calm playmaker, flashy ball-handler, and a deadly shot from the outside and on driving lay-ups. Also capable of denting double figures are Ed. Donlon, Chris Harris and Vennie Kelly.

Before we conclude this week's column, we'd like to include a little information about the excellent Freeport junior varsity. These future varsity standouts are led by two strong boardmen, Jack Raynor and Charlie Childress. Valuable contributions to the success of the team have also been turned in by Hal Cantilli, Larry Okun, Neil Nielson, Tom Forbes, Lou Carillo, Mickle Tirman and John Oliver.

Freeport's sharp-shooting nincoms are preparing for the defense of their Nassau County title crown that they captured last year. The Red Devils are favorites to repeat with five returning lettermen, all of whom saw action with the championship array. These returnees are Dave Winter, Dave Olson, Norm Popple, John Hesse and Pete Cattano.

Nassau-Suffolk Y.M.C.A. Plans $50,000 Campaign

The Nassau-Suffolk Y.M.C.A. will embark on a "financial" campaign for $50,000 early in 1951, Robert G. Olmsstead, president, announced today.

The decision to undertake the money-raising program follows approval by the two-county organization's Board of Directors who have been studying the results of a survey they had made by state "Y" officials.

The "Y" has seven branches in Nassau and Suffolk Counties and the eighth will go into operation the first of the year in Valley Stream.

"The $50,000 is not a figure plucked out of the air for campaign purposes," Olmsstead said. "It is the specific recommendation of the state report, which proposed that we go into a major campaign in 1951."

1951 Nassau Co. Fair To Remain Open Sunday

Following a policy long pursued by many other New York State county fairs, the Mineola Fair will conduct its 100th annual event through Sunday, six days in all for the first time in 30 years, Septem-ber 11th to 16th, inclusive. This action was taken by the Board of Directors at the annual reorganiza-tion meeting over the past weekend as a result of reports by fair de-partmental heads that almost as many disappointed would be the patrons arrived at the grounds the Sun-day after the fair closed during the past several years as attended any week day. The Sunday program will not start until 1:30 P.M., in defer-ence to religious services.

At the same meeting the follow-ing officers were elected for the forth-coming year: J. Alfred Valen-tine, president; Harold Van Eise, vice president; Samuel S. Under-hill, secretary and Raymond G. Fish, treasurer. The board also author-ized, by arrangement with Nassau County officials, the construction of a new main entrance to the Fair Grounds from South Road, behind the new Court House. The new ar-rangement will eliminate all cross-ing amidst auto traffic inside the grounds.

Grove Gardens Wins Three In Women's Commercial

Paced by their anchor, Betty Zippor, who contributed scores of 195, 185 and 164, the tallend Grove Gardens quinet swept a series from the Town Cleaners, Thursday night on the Grove Recreation Alley. The victors had a 44-pin handicap, which enabled them to win one of the games, but the others they took on their own merits. Moser Jewelry, still occupies first place by two games, though it lost to Palmer's Boat-Yard, 2 to 1, occupant of second rung.

Following the games the bowlers had a Christmas party, exchanging gifts and partaking of refreshments.
